JOHN W. GOLDEN'S VISIT. Stops Off to Confer With Speelers Union-Grievance Left With Him to

John W. Golden, president of the Textile Workers of America, stopped off in this city Thursday night on his way to attend a meeting of the bureau of labor connected with the Massachusetts legislature.

While in town Mr. Golden attended a meeting of Spoolers' union, No. 671, and discussed their grievance over the schedule of prices paid by the American Thread company on a new spoolcan Thread company on a new spooling machine recently installed. The matter was left with Mr. Golden for adjustment, and he will bring it to the attention of the officials of the com-pany in New York upon his return to Horse Paints Himself Green. Contrary to the natural order, frightened horse became green Friday afternoon on Railroad street. The horse was hitched to the stone post in front of Weeks' express office and was frightened by a passing engine. In endeavoring to break loose from the post the horse got on to the sidewalk and stepped into a pail of green paint belonging to men working on the neighboring building. Before he was quieted down by bystanders his struggles resulted in spattering him with considerable of the paint.

New Grandstand to Be Opened. This afternoon's games on the Thread Mill league grounds will be between Dye House and No. 5 Mill, and between No. 6 and No. 2 Mills. A number of the members of the Union St. John Baptist here will be at North Grosvenordale this (Saturday) afternoon for the St. John's day observance to be held there MANAGER FINE'S PLANS

Becomes Equal Owner with William Straues of High Grade Stock Com-An agreement was entered into here

Friday whereby Manager George H. Fine of the Bradigy theater, just re-turned from New York, becomes equal owner with William Strauss of Pawtucket and New York in the White-side-Strauss company, one of the best known stock companies that has played in New England during the past half dozen years.

The company is hereafter to be known under the title of Whiteside-Strauss, as formerly. The capitalization of the concern is $10,000. For several years past this company has been one of the most successful on the road and is well known to Putnam people, where week stands have been played for the past two seasons. During the season that is to be opened in August the company will be on a higher plane than ever be-fore. The cast is to be materially enlarged and strengthened and a new repertoire of special leased plays pre-sented. The rehearsals are to be conducted at the Bradley theatre and the whole organization will be engaged here for several weeks in preparing for the road season. The bookings to be made over territory where the organization is already well known will take the players throughout New England states and New Mesers Fine and Strauss, the for-mer with his experience as a house manager, the latter as head of his own playing organization for years, make an unusually strong team to di-rect a stock company and a highly prosperous season is anticipated, as the company, already well known, be stronger than ever. After closing the agreement here outlined and at-tending to some of his local interests Mr. Fine is to return to New York, where he has other theatrical inter-

STOVE POLISH TOOK FIRE. Mrs. Louis Pelletier Horribly Burned While at Work in Her Kitchen.

Mrs. Rose A. Pelletier, about 35, wife of Louis Pelletier of North Grosvenor-dale, was horribly burned early Friday afternoon when her clothing caught fire while she was engaged in polishing the stove at her home. It is believed that the stove was hot at the time and that the polishing mix-ture that Mrs. Pelletier was using burst into flame. Instantly realizing the terrible fate which she was facing as her clothing began to blaze, Mrs Pelletier bravely fought to beat out the fire, but in this she was unsuccess-ful. There was no one at the house to help her and she ran into the street to attract the attention of the neigh-borhood, which is in the mill village. Once out of doors the breeze fanned the blazing clothing into a fury of flame and Mrs. Pelletier soon fell exhausted and terribly burned. Such assistance as was in their pow-er was rendered by neighbors who rushed to her aid, but before the burn-rushed to her aid, but before the burn-ing clothing could be torn from her body she had been horribly burned from the feet to near the waist line and had suffered other burns on the hands and arms. Mrs. Pelletier was rushed to the Day Kimball hospital here in the automobile of Selectman Phills Woissed. She was given large. Philip Woisard. She was given immediate attention by the hospital staff.

More than one-third of the surface of Mrs. Pelletter's body is burned over and this taken with the fact that she is in a delicate state of health, raises grave fears that she will not be able to survive the frightful experience through which she passed. Mrs. Pelletier is the mother of four children.

ONLY A NEAR-BOMB.

Apparently Deadly Contrivance Investigated by Capt. Murray and Other

A little "soft" music, please, pro-fessor, and all the members of the cast, attention! Members of the dynamite squad up front! The time is now supposed to be Friday morning and the imagination in first class and the imagination in first class working order.

Enter a gentieman bearing a bomb. The gentieman does not intend to throw the bomb, so do not spoil the picture by dodging. This is merely the business of delivering the deadly thing to Captain John Murray, who is to be featured in the making of this film or film.

Captain Murray comes up left center and receives the bomb, which is a really and truly wicked and deadly really and trilly wicked and deadly appearing contraption. It is about a foot in length, covered with a russet colored leather, has brass taps, slit in each end, and is exuding a white powder of unknown properties. A tiny bit of fuse dangles from one and end.

The music a little more tragic in tone, here, professor; the expressions on the faces in the picture tone, here, professor; the expressions of concern on the faces in the picture are fine, men. 'Don't lose any of this, Mr. Camera Man. There, that's great! Now, gentlemen, we'll explain the picture, up to this point. The so-called bomb was found in the street here in Putnam and delivered in good faith to Captain Murray, who, with other officials to whom it was shown, believed it to be a dangerous contrivance. Investigating to determine just the na-ture of the thing it was finally and a harmless electrical device and a useful one in its place.

We will now proceed with the picture—There, it works out fine; you all look so pleasant as the reel runs off. Passed by the Putnam Board of Censorship.
